In order to use TI-Nspire Navigator, you must begin a class session before you can interact with your class and perform communication functions. Only one class session can be active at a time. Before you begin, your network needs to be available to the TI-Nspire Navigator software, so make sure that devices are turned on and connected. To start a class session, on the left side of the screen under Current Class, click the drop-down menu and choose the current class. Next, just above this, click on the Begin Class button. Once this becomes active, each student can log in by pressing Ctrl-Home on their handheld and choosing Log in from the menu. Then they can enter their user name and password according to their user information and press Enter to connect. As each student logs in, their icon in the Classroom tab will change from gray to color. Now you're ready to begin interacting with your students via their handhelds and the TI-Nspire Navigator software. Once you're ready to end that particular class session, click the End Class button in the upper-left corner to end the class and disconnect from the network.
